heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love him, but God has revealed them to us by his Spirit." * * * I Cor. 2 : 9, 10. Paul does not say that he grew into the glory and love of God, but that God revealed those things to him. This revelation was not only for Paul or the inspired writers, but the prophet Isaiah from whom Paul quoted (Isaiah 64 : 4) says it is for all those that love God. Paul does not say it is to be revealed hereafter, but that it is revealed now to them that love God. While much of God is past finding out he has promised to reveal many things to those that love him and seek his revelations.

I have now tried to affirm that the religion of Christ is altogether supernatural. I trust I may succeed to prove it to every sincere reader, but if I fail in that, I am still personally conscious of a little of it, and have observed a great deal of it in my contact with earnest Christian people during the last few years, hence know whereof I affirm.
